Celebrate Minnetonka's 50th anniversary

IN 2006, MINNETONKA MARKS ITS 50TH year of incorporation as a village. Many anniversary activities will take place in conjunction with existing city events such as Kids' Fest and Summer Fest, but other activities will be available as well, such as a community reading collaborative, coloring contest, self-guided historical tours and an August Jubilee event on the actual date of Minnetonka's incorporation as a village!

Take a look at what's happening in 2006, and come celebrate with us!

Kids' Fest

Sunday, Feb. 12, 2006, 12:30–5 p.m.

This event, hosted annually by Hopkins-Minnetonka Recreation Services in honor of We Love Our Kids Month, will include all the usual activities (listed in the winter recreation brochure) as well as the following anniversary-related activities:

- Come help kick off Minnetonka Reads, a community reading collaborative sponsored by Ridgedale Library, Minnetonka Library, and the city of Minnetonka. The event runs from Feb. 12 through March 18, with residents young and old encouraged to read and to share Minnesota author Gary Paulsen's The Quilt. Purchase a book and pick up information about the many Minnetonka Reads activities planned for March.
- Contribute your memories of Minnetonka, and write a "letter to the future" for a 50th anniversary time capsule.

Summer Fest

Saturday, June 24, 2006

Minnetonka's biggest city get-together will showcase not only a renewed Civic Center campus, but also Minnetonka's 50th anniversary of incorporation as a village. Take a trip back in time through the last five decades as you visit displays about Minnetonka's history; and have another chance to write a message to the future, and offer suggestions for what objects should be included in the time capsule.

Minnetonka Jubilee

Tuesday, August 22, 7–8:30 p.m.

On August 22, 1956, Minnetonka officially became a village. Come enjoy this program, featuring speakers, musical entertainment, historical displays and a multimedia presentation of the city's most recent five decades. View the contents of the time capsule, which will be stored at city hall to be reopened at the city's 100th anniversary in 2056. It all takes place at the Arts Center on 7, 18285 Hwy. 7, Minnetonka.

Other activities

Can't make it to one of the events, or want to do more? Here are some other ways to celebrate Minnetonka's 50th anniversary:

- Participate in Minnetonka Reads, a community reading collaborative for Minnetonka residents of all ages. Read Minnesota author Gary Paulsen's The Quilt, then choose an activity to learn more about the book and Minnetonka's history. The Minnetonka Reads kickoff event takes place at Kids' Fest, Sunday, Feb. 12. Learn more about the event and purchase a book. Books also are available at local bookstores and for checkout at the Ridgedale and Minnetonka libraries.
- In January, kids can participate in an art contest, hosted by the Lakeshore Weekly News and the city of Minnetonka. Submissions and the winning entries will be displayed at Kids' Fest in February.
- In the spring, pick up a new city trails map at Minnetonka City Hall and take a self-guided tour of the city's most interesting historical areas.
- From June through September, take a tour of the historic Charles H. Burwell House, located in the Minnetonka Mills area at 13209 East McGinty Road. This is also the site of the Old-Fashioned Ice Cream Social, held each year in conjunction with Summer Festival. The 2006 ice cream social is set for Saturday, June 24, 2006. ☺

City staff reorganized to better focus on natural resources

YEAR AFTER YEAR, COMMUNITY SURVEYS SHOW THAT NATURAL RESOURCES ARE ONE OF the amenities residents value most about Minnetonka. Last fall, in order to focus more attention on parks, trails and other natural resources in the city, existing city staff members were reorganized into two divisions—a parks and trails division and a natural resources division—within the Minnetonka Public Works department.

“While most cities have a parks department and a few employ foresters, we’re not aware of any city that has elevated natural resources management to this level of importance,” said John Gunyou, Minnetonka city manager. “Bringing our talented employees together who were previously spread among several departments will be more efficient, and allow us to better care for our newly renewed parks, extensive trail system and valued forestry and water resources.”

The parks and trails division, headed by Perry Vetter, is responsible for all parks and trails planning, development and maintenance, as well as the city recycling program. Vetter was previously with the city’s recreation department and has helped manage the city’s Parks Renewal program since 2001. He has a bachelor’s degree in recreation management.

The natural resources division, headed by Jo Colleran, is responsible for forestry, open space restoration, woodland resources, water resources (wetlands, creeks and lakes), development review and environmental enforcement and education. Colleran was previously environmental resources coordinator for the city, a position she held for four years. She has a bachelor’s degree in biology with an environmental emphasis, and is also a certified arborist and wetland ecologist.

Look for future articles in the Minnetonka Memo regarding a wide variety of environmental topics, as well as updates on the progress of the Parks Renewal program. Should you have any questions about natural resources in the city, call Minnetonka Public Works at (952) 988-8400 and you will be directed to the correct person. ☺

Safeguard your tax information

TAX SEASON WILL SOON BE HERE, AND ALONG WITH IT A PRIME OPPORTUNITY FOR identity theft. Follow these tips to safeguard your personal information.

Your tax forms contain personal information that could be used to claim your identity, such as Social Security numbers, bank account routing numbers, income information and home address. So, if you send in your returns via the U.S. mail, always use a secured mailbox or a post office.

Remember, the Internet provides a way for hackers to enter your computer and gather personal information. If you are preparing tax returns on your home computer, be sure firewalls and security measures are in place and functioning properly. Turn off computers when not in use. Use all precautions you would normally use for opening charge accounts with online businesses, and be sure when purchasing online that the information you send over the Internet is being encrypted or scrambled.

This information is provided by Nicole Nelson, crime prevention analyst with the Minnetonka Police Department. Call (952) 939-8546 for more information. ☺

KAREN J. ANDERSON, WHO LAST YEAR DECIDED NOT TO RUN FOR RE-ELECTION AFTER 12 years as mayor of Minnetonka, will be recognized for her many years of service to the city at an open house Wednesday, Jan. 25, 2006, from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Minnetonka Community Center, 14600 Minnetonka Blvd. Please come and join the Minnetonka City Council, boards and commissions members, city staff, elected officials, business people and residents in saying farewell and thank you! Annual security alarm registration due Jan. 1

CITY ORDINANCES REQUIRE ALARM systems to be registered with the police department by Jan. 1 of each year, for an annual fee of $10.

The purpose of the ordinance is not to discourage or eliminate the use of police and fire alarm systems, but to provide standards, requirements and sanctions for the ten percent of alarm users who cause 90 percent of the city’s false alarm activity.

Alarm systems are only as effective as those who are trained to use them. When properly operated and maintained, alarm systems can contribute to increased safety, crime prevention and apprehension of criminals.

Alarm registration pamphlets have been sent to alarm owners on record. If you did not receive one, call (952) 939-8500 or visit the Alarm Registration page for an online application. Upon receipt of the $10 registration fee, new 2006 alarm stickers will be sent. ☺
